PARNELLITES DEFEATED.

FLAVIN HAS A LARGE MAJORITY IN CORK.

Disquieting Reports From Uganda—The French Government in Trouble Over the Prosecution of an Archbishop—A King Grieves for his Daughter.

CORK, NOV. 7.—The votes in the election yesterday have been summed up, and the record stands: Flavin, Nationalist, 3,490; Redmond, factionist, 2,040; Sarsfield, Unionist, 1,049. Owing to the arrangements made by the authorities, election day passed off without any serious trouble. The McCarthyites are rejoicing over the result of the election, and the Parnellites are sullen, but apparently despondent. Appearances indicate that the defeated faction intend to make Cork lively if there are any bands or bonfires. The Parnellites declare that they will not give up the fight, but will continue to contest constituencies in which they have any reasonable number of supporters. It is said that Redmond may oppose the seating of Flavin on the ground of undue clerical influence. The Parnellites threatened to take this ground after both the Kilkenny and Sligo elections, but Parnell himself decided against the proposal, as he wished to avoid, he said, the bringing of religious issues into parliament. Redmond, however, has no such scruples, he is made desperate by defeat and there is little doubt that he will take this step. This would be highly pleasing to the Tories by enabling them to publish broadcast the testimony of clerical influence and intimidation. There is also little doubt that Flavin would be unseated, and the spectacle of the Cork contest again presented for the edification of Great Britain.

THE RUSSIAN SILVER WEDDING.

LONDON, NOV. 7.—The silver pilgrim bottles to be presented to the Czar and Czarina on the occasion of their silver wedding on Monday are not the gift of the Prince of Wales alone but also of the Princess of Wales, the King and Queen of Denmark, the Prince and Princess Royal of Denmark, the King of Greece and the Duke of Cumberland. The bottles stand three feet six inches in height. On one side is engraved the Imperial Russian arms, with an inscription in French, stating the occasion of the gift and the names of the subscribers. The king of Greece is said to be so deeply depressed over the recent death of his daughter, the grand Duchess Alexandria of Russia, that anxiety is felt regarding his health. Although more than forty days have passed since her death his depression increases.

FRANCE AND THE CHURCH.

PARIS, NOV. 7.—It is reported that the Archbishop of Aix will appear in full pontifical attire on the occasion of his appearance before the court of appeals in Sears on the charge of having questioned the authority of the Minister of Public Workship. The Government evidently regrets having begun the prosecution. The move is very unpopular, not only with the Clerical party but with Frenchmen generally, who have thought it to be in the interest of France to foster the papacy on account of the Pope's antagonism to Italy. The trial, it is thought likely, will be formal, and should the Archbishop be found guilty it is not thought possible that he will be sent to prison. The Archbishop would have a precedent for appearance in his sacred vestments in the case of the Bishop of Poictiers, whose arrest was ordered by Napoleon III. because he spoke of the Emperor as Pilate. The officer who went to make the arrest found the Bishop in all the solemnity of his sacred garb and crozier in hand, and declaring that he proposed to go to Paris in that form. No arrest was made, and the matter terminated in an official censure. Minister Faillieres already feels in much the same predicament as did the Emperor.

HONORS FOR PRINCE ALEXANDER.

VIENNA, NOV. 7.—The elevation of Count Hartenau, formerly Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, to the rank of a full colonel in the Austrian service is regarded as an indication of still higher military honors for the prince. The Emperor is known to have a high opinion of his military abilities, and intends his promotion, in the event of war, to the command of an army.

TROUBLE IN UGANDA.

ZANZIBAR, NOV. 7.—The news from Uganda gives great anxiety. The Arabs are becoming more aggressive, and the Protestants and Catholics continue to dispute the supremacy, thus encouraging the Arabs to make an attack, which is expected at any moment.

Chili's New President.

LONDON, NOV. 6.—The Times to-day publishes a dispatch from Santiago, which states that Admiral Jorge Montt has accepted the nomination for the presidency of the republic of Chili, subject to his not being expected to follow any particular plan of action. He indicates his intention of accepting only the acts and votes of Congress as the expression of the will of the Chilian people. Admiral Montt is represented as having at first been unwilling to accept the nomination, but at last accepted it when made quite certain that it was not offered to him as a reward to him for his services, but rather urged as another sacrifice to the wish of the people as expressed at the elections. Admiral Montt said he assumed power only to insure peace and prevent conflict between political parties. A later dispatch announces that Montt has been unanimously elected president of the Chilian Republic.

Matters in Brazil.

PARIS, NOV. 6.—A Rio Janeiro dispatch says the elections for members of the new Chamber of Representatives will occur in January. While retaining its representatives and federative features, the Congress will revise the constitution. Persons charged with being enemies of the Republic will upon conviction be immediately ordered to leave Brazil.

RIO JANEIRO, NOV. 6.—The situation of affairs here to-day is reassuring. Troops which have been guarding the telegraph offices since the disturbance commenced have been withdrawn. Complete order prevails and the usual amount of business is being transacted. The government has ceased to interfere with any telegrams. The general impression is prevalent that no great trouble is likely to occur. The prosperity of the country is unimpaired by the recent occurrences.

from 1828 to 1843 was the minister of the Church of Scotland in Gourock, and from 1843 to 1850 the minister of the Free Church of Scotland in the same place. In 1850 he removed with his family to Canada, accepting a call to Cobourg, Ontario, where he labored for nine years, when owing to failing health he resigned his charge and returned to Scotland, taking with him the younger members of his family. The subject of this sketch was the youngest of the family, and was born on the 21st of July, 1843—the memorable year of the disruption in the Church of Scotland. Like some other citizens of Victoria, Mr. Macleod began his college course in Cobourg in the well-known Victoria University, which is now about to be removed to Toronto, and he never fails to acknowledge with gratitude the benefits received under the teachings of the able men who then occupied the professors' chairs in that institution. After returning to Scotland Mr. Macleod went into business and for some years pursued a mercantile career, an episode in his history which has been of immense service to him in the work of the ministry. While successful in business, Mr. Macleod was not satisfied that he had found his true sphere, and when the way was opened resumed his studies with a view to the ministry. He was then identified with the English Presbyterian Church and took the literary course prescribed by that church, taking part of his course in London University and the last two years in Edinburgh. Mr. Macleod was licensed by the Presbytery of London and immediately ordained to the pastoral charge of Hamilton Presbyterian church, Birkenhead, on the 29th of June, 1871. In 1873 he was called to St. Peter's church, Liverpool, which grew under his ministry to be one of the largest Presbyterian congregations in that city. In 1878, moved by consideration of health, Mr. Macleod accepted a call to Stratford, Ontario, to Knox church there, and in 1880 he accepted a call to Central church, Toronto. The inducements to accept this call were simply that the congregation were in great straits and were likely to lose their building, which was overloaded with debt, unless a man could be found ready to undertake what looked like a forlorn hope. In the course of seven years the church grew to be one of the strongest in the city and the centre of great Christian activity. In 1887 Mr. Macleod paid his first visit to Victoria and occupied St. Andrew's pulpit for two Sundays. In the autumn of that year he was asked if he would consider a call, and, as in every previous case of making a change, he had but the one question to consider—where he might be most useful and where his work might prove most advantageous to the church. Parting with his attached congregation in Toronto proved a much more serious matter than he expected, and the debate in the Presbytery of Toronto on the occasion will not soon be forgotten by those who were present. On leaving for Victoria a public farewell was given to Mr. Macleod, clergymen and members of all denominations and many representative citizens taking part and expressing their regrets, and a handsome gold watch and chain were presented to him, and a beautiful silver tea service to Mrs. Macleod. Mr. Macleod's call to St. Andrew's church was signed by 47 members; there are now at least three hundred on the roll. The need of a new church was immediately felt, and the work of building enthusiastically entered upon, with the result not only of securing a handsome and commodious building for the congregation, but inaugurating a new era in the ecclesiastical history of the city, making it incumbent upon all denominations to provide new and beautiful places of worship.

A Spanish Minister's Duel.

LONDON, NOV. 6.—A dispatch says a duel was to-day fought between Admiral De Boranger, Spanish Minister of Marine, and the editor of a Madrid newspaper, whose name is not given. Four pistol shots were exchanged, neither man being injured. The matter was then arranged by the seconds. The same dispatch states that immediately after the conclusion of the duel Admiral De Boranger resigned the marine portfolio.

THE CHINESE ARE WILY.

BUT THE CUSTOMS OFFICERS BLOCK THE GAME.

An Entirely New Dodge Which Was Intended to Deceive Both Canadian and United States Customs Officials—Tickets of Leave to be Made Articles of Commerce.

Yesterday's TIMES had in its local columns an item headed "Defected in Trickery," which told of a Chinaman who was fined $50 on Thursday for impersonating some one else. To-day the public is further informed of a scheme by which the wily Mongolian endeavors to cheat the Canadian customs as well as the United States.

Last June a bright looking Chinaman, who gave the name of Ju Seet On, landed at Vancouver from China by one of the Empresses. He was a house servant, and also a new immigrant to Canada. In accordance with the provisions of the Chinese Exclusion Act he paid $50 poll tax to the government and was duly allowed to go at will on Canadian soil.

But Ju Seet On wished to enter the forbidden United States, and told a friend of his desires. This friend said it could be fixed, and told Ju to get some photographs taken. This was done, and one of the photo's sent to San Francisco, together with a sum of $25, and by the next mail a sealed document was sent back.

This document purports to have been signed by three men of San Francisco, and is attested to by a notary public. It has a photograph pasted on the face of the instrument, and is a sort of certificate which attests to the identity of one Yung Fon, whose photograph the one attached is sworn to be. It is also stated that Yung Fon is a native born San Franciscan.

This document is a very legal looking one, having two large red seals impressed on it where the notary had affixed his official mark. The photograph on the face of it is that of Ju Seet On, and it must have been there when the three white endorsers in San Francisco signed the document, as the photograph has writing across the face. One thing has been changed about the document, however, and that is the date. It was originally Oct. 23, 1891, but the two in 23rd has been cleverly erased, and the 1 in 1891 made into an 0. The work is very neat but can be detected.

Now when Mr. Ju Seet On had this document in his hands, he bethought himself of a scheme to make a few dollars at the expense of the Canadian Government. He took a trip to Vancouver, and going before the customs officers there, took out a ticket of leave, with which he could go out of Canada and return again without payment of another $50 poll tax. This ticket of leave he would not want after his arrival in the United States and he could easily find a broker who would give him $30 for it, the ticket being then sent to China where some other coolie answering Ju Seet On's description could use it in entering the Dominion. This did not satisfy Ju. He wished to make more, and so on Thursday went to the Custom House with an English-speaking Chinaman, and asked to be registered as a merchant from San Francisco, also wishing to take out another ticket of leave from this port, but not mentioning that he already had one from Vancouver. He produced the document, which is mentioned above, and claimed to be Yang Fon. Said he had come to Victoria over a year ago in the steamer Walla Walla.

On looking up the records it was found that the latter statement was false, for on the date given the Walla Walla was not running here, being laid up. The customs officials were suspicious in the first place, as the pretender could not speak a word of English, although the document stated that he was born in San Francisco, and further investigation brought forth the fact that a fraud had been attempted. The two Chinamen then owned up to the whole business, and told how the bogus papers from San Francisco came up from there only a few weeks ago. How the system had been evolved, and how a lot of other Chinamen had similar certificates. How the tickets of leave from here were said to be sent to China and used over again, and, in fact, gave away the whole case.

The confession did not save them, for a fine of $50 was inflicted for impersonation, and the customs officers having all the facts before them, can now easily circumvent other cute Chinese who may try the same dodge. It is quite probable that when the Unites States Government gets hold of the facts of the case the three white men endorsers of San Francisco, will be asked to explain their part in the matter.

The customs officials here deserve great credit for the neat way in which the fraud was detected, and a very healthy regard for the department will have been instituted into Ju Seet On's mind. What the next dodge of the Chinese will be is hard to say. They are always doing the unexpected.

Accused of Stealing from the Dead.

NEW YORK, NOV. 6.—Geo. Julio Campo and Geo. H. Simpson, charged with grand larceny in having robbed the body of the late Mrs. Charles Trulteur, at 115 East 30th street, were arraigned in the Tombs this morning. They pleaded not guilty, and were held for further examination. Counsel for the accused denounced the arrests as an outrage. He declared that Campo had befriended the dead woman, and that at the time of her death she was largely indebted to him. He said the pawn tickets found in Campo's possession were for some jewelry the dead woman pawned and had given to Campo as partial security for loans advanced by him. The woman, he said, was a speculator, and often pressed for money. In such emergencies she borrowed from Campo. So far as Simpson was concerned, counsel said he had only acted as a friend of Campo's, and was nowise implicated in the affair. Campo, who is a retired representative of the province of Bergota, United States of Columbia, boarded at the dead woman's house.

CHAPLEAU'S STRENGTH.

He is Said to Have Gained Nearly all He Wanted.

Special to the TIMES.

OTTAWA, NOV. 7.—The Chapleau difficulty is now over. The Secretary of State seems to have secured a practical victory and to have got more than he expected at the beginning of the fight. Either the Railways or the Public Works portfolio will go to Quebec, and Chapleau will have the nomination of the Ministers from that province. He will also be recognized as leader of the French-Canadian Conservatives in Parliament. He will be all powerful in the Ministry and will control the patronage of all the departments given to Quebec Ministers. He attended the meeting of the Cabinet yesterday afternoon, that being his first time at the council for two weeks. Ouimet was also present and was sworn of the Privy Council. A few days now will complete reorganization. Chapleau's friends say he has got practically everything he was fighting for, although he has apparently backed down on the one point of securing the Railways portfolio for himself.

It is reported that Meredith has been offered a seat in the Cabinet, but it is not stated whether he has accepted or not.

There is a big fight going on between Sir John Thompson, Lord Salisbury and the United States over the refusal of the Minister of Justice to grant registration of copyright to United States books in Canada, notwithstanding that the English and Canadian law provides for the same. Sir John argues that the treaty between the States and Britain, making this arrangement, is not an international treaty, because Canada is no party to it; that Canada has passed legislation now awaiting the approval of the British parliament which would preserve Canada's rights in this regard. If Britain does not approve this, then Canada will proclaim the act, as she maintains she has the right to do. The constitution has given her power to deal with copyright the same as trade questions.

THE CHILIAN PLOT.

Severe Punishment Awaits All Convicted Conspirators.

NEW YORK, NOV. 7.—The Herald's Valparaiso special says: "Senor Barros Arana gives the story of the plot to kill Colonel Canto in the Farro Corril to-day. He says that in September a number of officers in Balmaceda's army, against whom there were no special charges, had been liberated through his intercession. One of them had afterward come to thank him for his service. In the course of the talk that ensued Arana asked him what the liberated officers were doing. The reply was, that they were in a pretty bad way, and many of them were in want. There was he continued, some talk among them to take advantage of the rows which they anticipated would accompany the election in October and attempt a revolt. Their idea was to seize the capital, get hold of Canto, against whom they were especially bitter, and put him out of the way. Then they intended to capture the prisons and release the prisoners, political and otherwise. The artillery barracks were to have been the next point of attack. Here they expected to get sufficient arms to equip their men. The ex-ministers and refugees in the legations were then to be liberated. Arana says that at the time he paid little attention to the story, as he thought it was simply the idle talk of a desperate man. A few days later he casually mentioned the story to Col. Canto, who said that he had recently received a number of anonymous letters, threatening his life, and that the matter was laid before the Junta. The elections passed off quietly, and hence nothing public in regard to the matter transpired until two days ago, when several arrests were made. It is the general opinion amongst the public that it is time now for the Junta to forsake its hitherto merciful policy and take energetic steps to thwart any attempt to make trouble. The idea is to give the accused fair trial, and if they are found guilty to mete out to them exemplary punishment. It is believed that if complicity in the plot can be proven against the refugees in the legation there will be no question of their being given up. Ex-General Velasquez has left the German legation. His whereabouts are unknown. There is a decidedly more friendly feeling here between the Americans and Chilians. The Intendente of Valparaiso has addressed an official communication to Capt. Schley, of the U. S. warship Baltimore, requesting that the sailors attached to that ship who were wounded in the recent riots be permitted to appear before Judge Foster and give their testimony. In case it is found impossible or inexpedient to have the men appear before the Judge in person, he is requested to furnish copies of their depositions, which have already been taken by Capt. Schley. The Baltimore's wounded men are rapidly recovering from their hurts. A feeling of extreme cordiality now seems to exist between the Chilian authorities and the U.S. naval officers, and there are frequent interchanges of courtesies.

A Spanish Railway Smash.

MADRID, NOV. 6.—A fearful accident is reported to have occurred on the M. & D. Railway. Two passenger trains came into collision with tremendous force at Pameliona. A number of carriages were smashed into fragments. The loss of life is not yet known, but many persons were killed and a great number injured. Details are anxiously looked for.

Prominent Philadelphian Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, NOV. 6.—William N. Hearst, ex-city comptroller of Philadelphia, died at his residence in this city this morning in the 55rd year of his age.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—A demonstration in honor of Postmaster-General Haggart is being organized in South Lanark. If reports are correct it will require still more imposing affairs to keep him in the ministry.

The daughter of Geo. H. McKay, of Amherst, N.S., put arsenic in some pancakes in mistake for baking powder. All of the family partook of the cakes. The daughter is dead, and the rest of the family are slowly recovering.

Mr. Tarte declares in Le Canadien that nothing is definitely settled regarding the embroglio at Ottawa, and advises the representatives and electorate of the province not to rush to hasty conclusions on one side or the other, as it is evident something new is preparing.

The Montreal fire brigade, according to the testimony of Superintendent Jackson, of the Hochelaga Cotton company, saved the company $1,000,000 by their prompt work Saturday evening. They did it by heading off all the fire in the big establishment after it had damaged property to the extent of $30,000.

Government work on the road between Banff and Anthracite is making good progress. The summer's work has added two most beautiful drives to the many beautiful drives in the park, one to the famous Sun Dance Canyon, the other around Tunnel Mountain. The succession of views obtained on this drive is both rich and rare.

Dr. Beaudry, Provincial Health Inspector, has returned to Quebec from his tour through the Gaspe district, and reports the progress of smallpox as being checked there. At Pabos there are five cases, but two have almost recovered. There are still cases at St. Paul, where there have been, up to date, 51 cases and ten deaths, all of adults.

The Trappist Monks, who have a large establishment at Oka, near Montreal, have received an offer from Abbe Ritchot, of St. Norbert, Man., of one thousand acres of good land on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at a distance of only eight or nine miles from Winnipeg, and it is expected that a colony will be established there next year.

Judges Bosse and Blanchet sat in the criminal court in Quebec on Monday to hear a motion for a new trial in the case of the Queen against R. H. McGreevy and O. Murphy, found guilty of conspiracy to defraud, but as accused didn't appear, the motion was not argued. The defendants were then called pro forma to receive their sentence, and not answering to their names bench warrants were issued for their apprehension.

Mason Point on the St. Lawrence, near Round Island, is said to be haunted by ghosts. Many years ago Peter Lair, a good-for-nothing, who lived on the shore of Eel Bay, attempted to elope with a neighbor's wife. With this woman and his sister and household goods taken from Arnold's house he attempted to row in a boat to Clayton, but a squal of wind upset the boat and the occupants were drowned. Peter's body came ashore at the point in question, and believers in ghosts claim to have seen him in the still hours of the night trying to rescue the drowned household effects.

Wm. Ettinger, of Windsor, has been sent to the Supreme Court upon a charge of rape upon his 14-year-old stepdaughter. After committing the crime the girl related a horrible story to her mother. A row ensued, and the stepfather threatened to kill the girl if she told anyone else. Life becoming unbearable, the girl quietly left the house to visit her aunt at Dartmouth, taking with her $5 belonging to her father. She was accompanied by another girl. Both were arrested before they arrived at Dartmouth and sent to jail for six months for robbery. Becoming ill in jail, the doctors elicited a confession that she had been outraged by her stepfather. He was arrested and sent to the Supreme Court for trial on charges of rape, incest, criminal assault and seducing a child of which he was guardian.

In a few days documents will be filed at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, in a case which will involve a member of the medical profession in that city. Instructions have been given in the matter to a legal gentleman, and the papers are now, it is understood, in the process of preparation. The plaintiff in the case resides in Toronto, and will appear in the pleadings as a wronged husband. Some time ago, according to his statement, which, however, is not verified under oath, his wife was taken ill, the doctor in question being called in to attend her during her illness, when, it is alleged, the physician, taking advantage of her exhausted condition, conducted himself in a most unprofessional and ungentlemanly manner towards her. Damages to the amount of $5000 are spoken of as the solatum that the plaintiff will ask the court to allow him for his injured feelings.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Summary of Recent Events in the Eastern World.

The Archbishop of Aix will defend himself in person before the court of appeals.

Patrick Brady was arrested in the steerage of the steamship Etruria at Queenstown yesterday afternoon. He had a revolver and cartridges concealed in his hat.

A boat belonging to the collier Kathleen has been washed ashore at Clacton Sea, Essex. It is feared the collier, which carried a crew of seven men, has foundered with all ou board.

The sudden death of Mr. Kerr, agent for the property and affairs of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, at Avondale, will cause some delay and confusion in settling the estate. Kerr had everything at his finger ends and no one else was familiar with them.

Sir John Gorst said in a speech at Liverpool that the British Government owned 13,000 out of 17,000 miles of Indian railways, and had expended £9,500,000 yearly on railways and irrigation in India. The building of a railway to the Chinese frontier was proceeding.

Several Chinese have been beheaded at Wuch Chung, by order of the Viceroy, for posting placards inciting to violence. Ever since the captain of the British gunboat Aspic notified the Viceroy that in case of further attacks upon foreign residents the gunboat would shell his palace, comparative order has been maintained.

Severe snow storms continue in Bulgaria. At some points the snow is ten feet deep. Many persons have died from the effects of cold, and thousands of cattle and sheep have been lost. Numerous wrecks are reported in the Black Sea. Rainhas fallen in torrents in the province of Malaga, Spain. The lower quarters of Colila and Perchel are submerged.

The bank of Florence failed to open its doors yesterday. The bank officers refused to make a statement. The assets and liabilities cannot be learned. Several exciting scenes were enacted in the bank. One depositor gained access to the president's office and, at the point of a pistol, demanded his money. He was persuaded to desist. A notice was on the door "closed temporarily."

Reports are increasing in number of thefts of grain in Saratoff, Russia, owing to destitution. In some districts the people eat the food refused by animals. A rumor is reported that mothers kill their children in order to prevent their starving to death. Famine has revealed the existence of considerable maladministration among government officials. Some of the ministers are likely to be dismissed.

Eighteen distressed Brazilian emigrants have landed at Southampton. They went to Brazil from Bradford, Leeds, and other places in England, and tell harrowing stories of suffering. Nine of the party died in one day, and the survivors were too weak and sick to bury the bodies, which were pounced upon and partly devoured by vultures. The party of which these 18 were the remnant left England in March last.

A man named Grant, one of the gang of forgers who have been engaged in swindling the London and Westminster Bank by means of forged checks, was to-day committed for trial. During the preliminary examination the prisoner became very violent, cursing the presiding magistrate, and yelling out that he would rather be tried by drum-head court-martial than take his chances where he was or before the court to which he stood committed. He was forcibly removed by the court officers. A fund for the detection of the rest of the forgers has been raised by a number of bankers, and it is hoped that the arrest of Grant will lead up to their apprehension.

The headless body of a man was found in a cellar on the Rue Charonne, Paris. The authorities made an investigation, which resulted in establishing the following facts: The mon was strangled before beheaded. The murderer carried the bleeding trunk to the place where it was found from the spot where the crime was committed. A dock laborer named Vawcort was arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of the man whose body was found in the cellar. Vawcort had once been in prison on the charge of attempt to murder. He was seen to enter the house with a companion on Sunday evening and depart alone on Monday with a linen parcel. Vawcort has confessed his guilt.

At a meeting in London of the shareholders of the Idaho Mining Company, Mr. Marden, holder of 1500 shares, accused certain directors of being dummies appointed through the company's solicitor, and said those directors' fees should be reduced. Chairman Granton called Mr. Marden to order. Another speaker questioned whether either gold or silver had ever been got out of the mine. The report was ultimately passed, and as the meeting was dispersing a melee arose between Mr. Granton and Mr. Marden, who fought each other all around, knocking about the directors, shareholders, reporters and others, and overthrowing the furniture. The two combatants finally fell to the floor, where they continued to punch each other until Colonel W. H. Moffatt, assisted by reporters, dragged them apart. Both were badly disfigured. The scene enacted has never been equalled at any similar meeting held here.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

THE CORK ELECTION.

Mr. Flavin, the anti-Parnellite candidate, has been elected in Cork by a decisive majority, his vote being much larger than those of the Parnellite and Unionist candidates combined. This reverse in Parnell's old stronghold should convince the members of the faction that there is no utility in continuing the struggle. While their leader was alive the defeats in Kilkenny and Sligo were good evidence that his strength was pretty well spent, but it could still be said that "while there was life there was hope." Now that he is dead there is no man among his lieutenants who can hope to take up his fight and win a victory in the end. To outsiders a continuation of the struggle seems a mere exhibition of stubbornness which must make the judicious grieve and give hope and comfort to the common enemy. There is nothing the Tories could more heartily desire than a prolongation of this factional strife, a fact which should cool down even Irish hot-headedness. The riotous contests of the two parties will be used as a strong argument against the granting of Home Rule to Ireland, and will undoubtedly have weight with English and Scottish voters, who have lately been showing so strong an inclination to endorse the Gladstonian programme. If the Irishmen want to turn back the tide that has been flowing in their favor they cannot do better than keep up their internecine warfare. The dispatches report that Redmond expresses a determination to persevere in the conflict, but it is to be hoped that more reasonable counsels will prevail, and that the Parnellites will stop fighting for a shadow rather than lose the substance. If they do not, they will convince many of Ireland's friends that Home Rule would be a curse instead of a blessing to the Green Isle.

WHAT CHAPLEAU HAS GAINED.

The latest advices from Ottawa indicate that Chapleau has not backed down nearly so much as was previously reported. Premier Abbott has apparently been firm on only one point—the withholding of the Railways and Canals portfolio from the ambitious Secretary of State. Other concessions would appear to more than counterbalance this, for Chapleau has secured the power to say who shall be his colleagues in the Cabinet from Quebec, and has all the patronage for the province in his control. He is to be recognized as the sole and undisputed leader of the Quebec contingent in the House, which means that Caron is going out. If all this be true—and we see no reason to doubt the report—Chapleau need care little for the nominal reverse which he suffered in connection with the Railways portfolio. He has said to himself that he wanted promotion as an acknowledgment of his leadership in Quebec, and if he has secured the desired power and patronage in another way, what practical difference will it make to him whether he is Secretary of State or Minister of Railways and Canals? It is worth while to note that as long ago as Monday last, the Mail's Ottawa correspondent foreshadowed the settlement stated in our Ottawa dispatch, saying that Chapleau had consented to take the Presidency of the Council on condition that he should be recognized as the French Conservative leader. He also predicted that Col. Ouimet would become Minister of Public Works, and Lieut.-Gov. Angers would change places with Caron as soon as circumstances would permit. The distribution of the portfolios among the Quebec men, however, is not a matter of great moment; the salient point is that Chapleau practically gets his own way.

It is disagreeable to have to record the triumph of such a man as Chapleau, and it would have been much better for the country, as well as the Conservative party, if the Premier had not yielded to him. He should have been told to go, as the country has had enough of him. Unfortunately Mr. Abbot did not feel himself strong enough to take this course, so Chapleau is apparently greater than ever, and will remain so as long as the Government lasts. The Premier was also probably hampered by his promise to the Secretary of State last spring, when he undertook to lead the government. Chapleau thus speaks of the promise in a letter to the Hamilton Spectator:

Dear Sir—I read in your journal the following paragraph: "If Mr. Abbott will allow ambitious men to put a pistol to his head and demand what portfolios they think they ought to have he will fail and deserve to fail."

He would be right if that were true, but unfortunately for you it is not so. If a Premier when forming his Cabinet voluntarily makes a definite and special promise to a gentleman whom he asked to be one of his colleagues, is he bound to keep his promise, and is the man to whom such a promise is made a bandit putting a pistol to his head because he calmly asks that his promise be fulfilled? I have reason to believe you are a gentleman. Can you give me an answer to the above questions?

In an interview about the same time he said:

I will tell you this, though, when I saw those articles in the Toronto Empire and Montreal Gazette I went to Mr. Abbott and said these articles are evidently inspired, what do they mean? Mr. Abbott then told me that he could not keep the promise he had made to me. I did not ask for any particular portfolio, I did not ask for patronage. I would scorn to have patronage, but I want to be treated as one gentleman would treat another. I am asking for nothing but that.

Now it appears that if Chapleau has not got his pound of flesh he has secured something that is extremely like it. The Empire and the Gazette will have the pleasure of seeing him control not one but several departments, through the men who are to be the heads of those departments. They must admit that if he was not fit to be entrusted with the Railways portfolio, he is not fit for the greater power he has gained. There is evidently only one way of freeing the country from Chapleauism, and that is to dismiss the whole Ministry.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World Here and Elsewhere.

CYCLING.

THE WINNER OF THE NEW YORK RACE.

The international bicycle race in New York resulted in the triumph of William Martin, who broke the record and made more than 1466 miles in 142 hours. His success is that of an Irish-American, and the green flag and the Stars and Stripes are the proper emblems of his rolling supremacy.

The sporting hero of the hour was born in Dublin, Ireland, January, 1869. He was three years old when brought to the United States. His chief claim to distinction is found in his astonishing performance of last week, but he has won several races as an amateur in the West. Until now he has been unsuccessful as a professional, and in a race at Detroit had the misfortune to break his left leg. The superior endurance by means of which he won at New York in the event which gives him world-wide pre-eminence as a bicyclist, is said to be in a great measure due to his abstemious habits. Martin is a total abstainer from alcoholic liquors of all kinds and from the use of tobacco.

A very pretty little romance was developed and brought to a happy ending by the bicycle race in New York. Young Martin, who won the race, had the heart of his best girl wound round his wheel. She wanted to marry Martin, but stern parents persisted in filing the bull dog's teeth, and the old man wore heavy boots two sizes too large whenever the young man was in the neighborhood. Finally it was agreed that if young Martin could get enough money to buy a nest for his true-hearted little girl, that the paternal parents would wink the other eye. He won the race, a big lot of money, and will soon marry his own true love.

THE OAR.

HANLAN'S HUNT FOR GOLD.

A Vancouver paper says:—Edward Hanlan arrived from Victoria yesterday and spent some time looking after the purse of $300 offered to him on his race with McLean here. The names of the list of subscribers are now in the hands of Hanlan's solicitor, Mr. J. A. Russell, and will be given to a collector this morning. Hanlan goes to New Westminster to-day to try to arrange a race with McLean upon the terms offered by the latter in a challenge, with the exception of the clause as to boats. This means that he is ready to give McLean a 100 yards start in a three mile race on the Fraser, each to use the boats he used in the race in Vancouver. If he cannot arrange the race with McLean he will leave in a few days for San Francisco.

FOOTBALL.

ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES.

Two matches in the semi-final round for the championship of the Ontario Rugby Football Union were played in Toronto last Saturday. In the morning Toronto University defeated Queen's University, Kingston, by 27 15. In the afternoon before the largest crowd that ever paid to see a game of football in Toronto, Osgoode Hall's team defeated the Hamilton fifteen (the cup holders) by 28 to 4. To-day the Varsity and Osgoode play the final match for the championship.

QUICKLY KNOCKED OUT.

PEDESTRIANISM.

D. A. Smith, of Vancouver, and C. C. Stewart, of New Westminster, agree to run a two hundred yard race for a medal valued at $20, the race to be open to all amateurs and to be run in New Westminster on Nov. 9th.

The German iron bark Woosung, from Honolulu, was towed into Royal Roads this morning by the tug Active. She called for orders and will proceed on to Seattle to load grain.

John Hendry, W. C. Haywood and Alex. Ewen returned last evening from the Kaslo claims, and more than corrobate all that has been stated with regard to the richness of this district.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

Frederic Archer's Organ Recital — "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Mr. Archer is a great organist in every sense in which the term implies. His mastery over the instrument is complete, and his command of its technical and mechanical resources almost phenomenal. He apparently is at home in every school and brings to each its essential characteristics. His playing is not only scholarly, but has the practical quality and merit of being highly pleasing, and it appeals to those untutored in high class organ music no less than to the educated musician. The organists of this city who have heard him play cannot have failed to learn much from him.—Detroit Tribune. Mr. Archer's recital at St. John's Monday evening will be one of those treats rarely experienced. Tickets have sold very fast.

CLEVELAND'S MINSTRELS.

During the coming week W. S. Cleveland will bring his new organization of black-faced talent to this city, what he calls "the Eiffel tower of minstrelsy." The company has been well received throughout the East during the present season. The Louisville Courier-Journal says of the show: The Temple theatre was packed to its utmost capacity last night and the "standing-room only" sign was hung out long before the curtain went up. It was a fashionable audience, too, which is a proof that refined minstrelsy still retains its hold on the better class of theatre-goers as well as upon the gallery gods. In his present venture, Mr. Cleveland has returned to old-fashioned minstrelsy, and the audience manifested its approval of the revival by giving each feature of the programme an enthusiastic reception. All of the jokes are new and good, and the songs are light and pretty. Every feature of the performance is said to be new and original, and the fun-makers are young, talented and enthusiastic in their work. The show is worthy of success. They appear here on Monday evening.

A CHILD ACTRESS.

Miss Carrie Franks, a little lady 10 years of age, took the part of Willie in "East Lynne" at the Philharmonic last evening. Miss Franks, although young, is no novice on the stage, she having been behind the footlights for nearly five years. A few weeks ago she terminated a season with the "Social Session" company, and has since been living with her relatives in Victoria. Mr. Belmour, of the Imperial, hearing she was here, engaged her for the part, and also to play Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the matinee and this evening. Miss Franks is a clever little actress, and fully understands the character she takes, acting naturally and with feeling.

STAGE NOTES.

The Imperial Stock Company had a crowded house at the Philharmonic Hall this afternoon when they presented the ever pleasing drama "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It will be played again this evening.

Johnny Williams, the genial advance manager of T. Henry French's "Little Lord Fauntleroy," is here making arrangements for the appearance of his company at the Victoria Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next. A report seems to have gained ground that the company had "gone through" at Portland. No such thing. The company is a strong one, as T. Henry French's combinations always are, and includes three of the players in the original production of this play at St. James' theatre, London (Eng.).

The company plays from here east, over the Northern Pacific line, via Chicago, to New York, and will visit this country next season with "Prince and Pauper," another of T. Henry French's American successes.

The Festivities Closed.

The big potlach which has been going on at Esquimalt for the past few days came to a close with a grand dance last evening, and to-day the Indians return to their reservations. Missing Sailors' Wages.

The question of the date up to which wages are payable to the heirs of seamen who were employed on vessels which have been given up as lost, is one which has been adjudicated on by the proper authorities, and it is stated that wages can only legally be claimed up to the date when such derelict was last reported as having been seen by the crew of some other vessel. The moneys so due are payable to the heirs according to priority, a scale of which is also fixed.

Where Thieves Break In.

Some person, not a cash customer, visited the provision store of Mr. Carpenter a few evenings since, but as the hour was far advanced Mr. Carpenter was not on hand to receive the visitor. The latter made himself at home by appropriating a miscellaneous lot of provisions of a necessary character, supplemented, however, by a few luxuries such as cigars, and a little coin of the realm amounting to about $13. The police, who are on the track of the thief, suspect a Chinaman as the guilty party.

Did He Mean It?

In one of the smaller cities of Puget Sound there is a barber who is one of the leaders of the Salvation Army. His religious views are the subject of his conversation with every customer that comes in the shop, and this very often caused a shiver to run up a man's back. The experience of one gentleman will illustrate the feelings of many. He had just sat down in the barber's chair when the barber Salvationist picked up his razor and began to sharpen it. At the same time he opened his usual conversation with the remark "Are you prepared to meet your Jesus?" The man vacated the chair and has not yet returned for his hat, thinking that he would sooner live a little longer.

Two Estates Come Together.

A newspaper man may be a good horseman, theoretically; he may be able to tell how a jockey should sit a horse; how a driver should hold the ribbons; when he should use the whip and when he should not; he may be able to tell a square trot from a crooked canter, but the chances are, when he tries to steer a horse, rather a restive and fresh animal, between a load of hay and another vehicle, unless he gets through by a miracle of good fortune, that it will be shown he is an indifferent practitioner. A member of the fourth estate was in this position this afternoon, and he made the acquaintance of some liquid real estate. And then he said he had only got an item.

Domestic Differences.

There was in the police court this morning a long contested case which was a source of amusing interest to the court and resulted in what might be termed a "draw." Marie Bouton, a lady living on Broad street, charged Jeanne Beauters and Julia Dugal, inmates of her house, with stealing the sum of $100 from her. In the evidence it was elicited that Marie Bouton got these girls direct from Paris, France, where she went for them herself and paid all their expenses here. They have not been here very long, but long enough to find out that they do not like their landlady, and accordingly wanted to leave her. She accuses them of taking the above sum out of a handkerchief containing $560, but had no actual evidence proving the theft. A warrant was issued for their arrest, and they were lodged in jail last night. His honor adjourned the case till Monday, allowing the accused out without bail.

The Nova Scotia Sealers.

News from North Sydney, dated Oct. 30th, states that the schooner Brenda sailed from North Sydney on the 29th October for the Behring Sea seal fisheries. She is the pioneer of a fleet of ten Nova Scotia vessels to sail this autumn for that fishery, which will bring the Nova Scotia Sealing fleet up to 30 vessels. The Libbie will sail from the same port in a few days for the same destination. Nova Scotia speculators engaged in and entering upon the sealing industry are much alarmed by the news cabled from London of the decreased price of skins. Up to the annual sale which took place in London on the 26th October, the prices ruled 50 per cent. in advance of last year's sale, consequently large numbers of skins were held until this year's sale in the expectation of still further advancing. The result of the sale, however, was to drop prices 85 a skin. This is likely to prove disastrous to many of those engaged in the business during the past season, who undertook tremendous risk of seizure, and it has put a damper on the enthusiasm of the men who, seeing millions in the business have just purchased ten new vessels to reinforce the fleet in Behring Sea.

Down from Kootenay.

Mr. Archibald Cameron arrived down from the Kootenay country last evening, and will settle down to home comforts for the winter. He has been engaged all the season superintending the construction of the government wagon road leading from Golden to Fort Steele, a distance of about 180 miles. This, when completed, will prove a great boon to the people, particularly the miners of that district. A distance of thirteen miles was finished this season, with between 18 and 20 men on an average working, and there remains a further distance of eleven miles to complete the remaining section of the road. Its usefulness will be chiefly felt in the winter, when traffic by the river is no longer possible. Business is very brisk on that part of the river just now, and is steadily on the increase. To meet this, Captain Armstrong intends during the present winter to build another steamer, capable of running 15 miles, and to be fitted up with every requisite and comfort. In McMurdock's district, there is much activity, there being four camps backed by good capitalists. As many as forty men will winter in this section working all the time. Prospects promise rich results for next season. The farmers have shared largely in the general prosperity, and report a very good season.

The Travels of Semamanick's Body.

The body of the Indian Semamanick, upon which an inquest was held yesterday, had traveled a very long way before it finally arrived at Lockhart's undertaking rooms last Sunday evening. The Indian committed suicide near Blaine a short time ago. He had been under medical treatment for some time past by a Blaine doctor, and while in a despondent mood hung himself to the bough of a tree. The body was found several days before the Indians notified the police or white people living in the vicinity, as they wished the dead man's father, who lives in Saanich, to see the body. On the arrival of the old man the remains were buried and the authorities notified. The body was, however, exhumed, and examined by a Blaine doctor, who gave his opinion that death was caused through suicide. Nothing more was thought of the matter until a week ago when the body turned up at Saanich. Then reports were spread of the savage murder at Saanich, which were not doubted until the TIMES announced on Monday that there were no signs of foul play to be detected on the body. The body was in a newly covered coffin, ornamented with silver handles and screws. The coffin, however, was big enough to hold two bodies the size of Semamanick's. The body must have been brought from the mainland in a canoe.

THE OWNERSHIP OF ROCK.

John Haggerty vs. Henry Noble:—This was an action to recover $279.50, balance of claim for blasting rock on the property of defendant. The plaintiff contended that the contract was for $1.75 per cubic yard for blasting rock and that he was to have the rock. The defendant contended that the contract was for $1.75 for blasting the rock but that Haggerty was not entitled to the rock, that it was his, the defendant's, property. The defendant counter claimed against the plaintiff for $358 for 179 loads of rock taken by the plaintiff.

Mr. E. E. Wootton appeared for plaintiff; Mr. S. Perry Mills for defendant. His lordship, the Chief Justice, decided that the rock was the property of the defendant and gave judgment for defendant with costs.

FOR THE COMOX TRADE.

Work to Be Started on a New Boat Monday Morning.

Some time ago the TIMES gave a description of a boat which it was the intention of Messrs. Dunsmuir to build for the Comox trade to take the place of the steamer Isabelle. This afternoon the contract was signed for the building of the hull, Messrs. W. J. Stephens, of Spratt's dock, and Wm. Turpel, of the Central Yard having agreed to build a wooden boat 180 feet long, 30 feet beam and 12 feet depth of hold, from a model furnished by the owners which is from the lines of the steamer City of Kingston. With such well know shipbuilders there will be no doubt about the kind of a job that will be turned out, and a dandy steamer may be looked for. One too, that will be made thorough in every detail. Work on her will be commenced on Monday and the new vessel will be ready for business in a few months.

The Albion Iron Works will build the engines from designs furnished by Mr. H. Kessler. There will be two pair of compound engines to drive twin screws. The cylinders, which are to be fore and aft, will be 16 inches diameter for the high pressure and 32 for the low pressure, with a stroke of 24 inches. Two steel boilers, built to carry a working pressure of 120 pounds per square inch, will furnish steam.

The new boat will be built for speed, and will be fitted up specially for the island trade.

WAKEMAN'S WANDERINGS

THE RAGGED SCHOOLS OF GREAT BRITAIN.

Their Outgrowth from the Compulsory Elementary School System—Children and Parents Hunted, Haunted and Harried Until Lowly Homes Are Destroyed and Criminals Created.

[Copyright, 1891, by Edgar L. Wakeman.]

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Twenty-one years ago the British parliament enacted that all children of England and Wales between the ages of five and thirteen years, if the "sixth standard" had then been reached, should be compulsorily educated. At different times since it has made laws that these children should receive this compulsory education either in various "voluntary" or parish and church schools, or in "board" schools, under local and governmental supervision, and compulsorily pay for the same.

The State, in effect, said: "You, Tiny Tot, aged five years, are to attend such school as we may provide, or your parents select, every school day of your life until you are thirteen years of age, or have passed the sixth standard, or we will clap you in a criminal institution. And you, Tiny Tot's father, must pay for what we compel your child to do, or we will fine you for every absence recorded against it, and tax you for the cost of its imprisonment whenever we finally shut it up; and then, if you can't pay its accrued fees and fines and the accruing judgments against yourself, we will also clap you in jail until they are paid or are liquidated by imprisonment; when we will then release you and again begin the same wholesome care of yourself and your offspring."

Out of this exquisite system has grown, naturally and in order, millions of school haters and liars; hundreds of thousands of petty lawbreakers before the local magistracy; tens of thousands of children criminals among the good and bad alike; an army of "visitors," inspectors and detectives, whose unempowered though universally exercised brutality among helpless children and distracted and ignorant mothers is inexpressibly infamous; and hundreds of so called Industrial schools, or "Ragged" and "Truant" schools, as they are more popularly termed, which, whatever their merits of management on the line of their legalized purposes, are an inexcusable outrage upon the inalienable rights of child life and home life in any civilized land.

The elementary schools are of two kinds—the board schools and the voluntary schools. The first are vaguely supported by government allowance from taxation, though their support actually comes from the parents of scholars forced to attend school, through a fee ranging from one penny, or two cents, to ninepence, or eighteen cents, per week for each child. As the poor are notoriously most prolific, the fees taken from a family compelled to send from three to five children to a board school may average fivepence each per week, or from thirty to fifty cents for the whole number.

The voluntary schools are simply those schools established under bequests, the schools founded by associations and the parish schools of nearly every religious denomination in England. They all demand fees, in most cases exceeding those established by the board schools. There are seven standards or grades and a "special seventh," the latter merely comprising a class receiving special attention for proficiency. Out of the latter the master chooses those who are to compete for an annual scholarship, and this entitles the winner to a collegiate school education of about three years' term.

The most effective commentary upon the inherent wrong in the British system of compulsory education with compulsory payment for the same is found in a few briefly recounted facts. It is universally admitted by all board school "visitors," inspectors, detectives and officers, as well as by magistrates adjudicating school board cases, that it has come to be the most desperate struggle of a large portion of the lowly of England, second only to their struggle for bread, to evade the registration of their children for school attendance. If that, to them, miserable misfortune befalls them, it is their next unremitting struggle to defeat by every expediency, cunning device, falsehood and downright villainy the enforcement of the law. It relentlessly hunts, haunts and harries them as long as they possess a child within the compulsory age; and I personally know of scores of families where one or both parents have been persecuted to their grave and their children driven from possible respectability to permanent criminal life.

This information is based on the statements of school visitors, inspectors and reputable people. But any one has access to the fact that in London, for the nine months ending March 31, 1887, out of the parents of the enormous number of 10,670 children summoned before the police magistrates for nonattendance or irregular attendance, 103 had been previously summoned between eleven and thirty-five times. Not only this, but, according to official returns, for every hundred scholars' seats provided (while there is not provision for one-sixth of all British children who are entitled to receive elementary education) there is, under the compulsory attendance and pay system, an average attendance of only about 73 per cent. It is also true that there is an attendance, forced and voluntary, of only about 76 per cent. in all British elementary schools.

In other words, after an army of detectives have found a certain number of children, which the law mercilessly drives to school and into paying for the schooling and the driving, the utmost rigor of British law—re-enforced by relentless magistrates, by constables, detectives and "visitors," whose very sustenance depends upon their vigilance, and the endless dread of prison to both parents and children—can after all compel a school attendance of only three-fourths of the children under actual everyday surveillance. Is it any wonder that, under such a system, the entire school attendance of the great city of Liverpool, for the month of July last, failed to reach 84,000; and that, to provide for the detention of the rebellious among this number, its "Ragged school" prisons in Park lane, Boad, Queensland and Addison streets were rated to hold 1,235 child prisoners, with their capacity quite overtaxed?

Children are got on the school lists in three ways—by house to house registration, when more than one-half of the poorer classes deny all knowledge of their children, hide them in the most cunning manner and often incite riots with the aid of sympathizing neighbors; by parents presenting their children for voluntary registration; and by spying them out in the streets and dogging their footsteps until they arrive at their homes, when an investigation which often amounts to a siege at once begins.

The devices resorted to for sequestering children from registration are often pitifully grotesque. On one occasion when accompanying a "visiter" on his rounds, I saw a poor woman caught in the act of squeezing her boy into the oven of her hob; and among many quite as odd stratagems witnessed was one by a mother who stood in the open door, and after bluntly denying maternity was finally forced to admit the ownership of two strapping girls that had for the fifteen minutes' parleying stifled and trembled beneath the mother's over ample skirts. Stuffed beneath bundles of rags, actually covered with coals, wedged in chimney flues, hid beneath floors, smothered between mattresses, and clinging to the sides of privy vaults are common bestowals of children to escape registration or subsequent capture. No wonder that the vagabond and criminal instinct becomes predominant in the nature of folk thus harassed.

We will suppose, for illustration, a boy has been hunted down and got within the school board jurisdiction. If a single absence be recorded against him he comes under all the possibilities of the law. The usual course is, in case he makes a little more than half time—that is, six out of ten attendances, twe per day, or ten per week, being the reckoning—and a "warning" having been served for every absence, the mother or father, and usually the former, is summoned before a police magistrate. The "visitor" is practically the prosecutor for the board. He makes oath to the boy's "presence" and "absence." If the mother answers the summons and enters a good defense, the boy may get off with a reprimand; but he is permanently thereafter under court espionage. If a breach of attendance now occurs, a second summons is issued against the mother, and a fine—the lowest being a shilling—is never escaped. At the same time the superintendent of the national school board is present, who, whether the child is from a parish or a board school, will recommend his commitment to an industrial school, and never for a term of less than three years. His commitment is a sentence to one of three conditions or grades of industrial school prison life:

1. To the Truant school, for boys and girls, for a three years' term; in which case the culprit is chased by "visitors" to and from the school, where he remains certain hours of each day and receives his food, but no clothing, and sleeps at home. The parents are compelled to pay one shilling per week into the Industrial school fund.

2. To the Intermediate Industrial school, for boys only, where he is committed to the age of sixteen, should he be sentenced at the age of five. Here the lad is in absolute confinement, and his parents are compelled to pay from two shillings to two shillings and sixpence per week into the fund; and,

3. To the Industrial school proper, for both sexes, under a five years' sentence. The parents must pay the same sum weekly as to the Intermediate fund. They may visit their children once every three months; but the latter are never liberated until finally discharged.

On sentence to the Truant school the child belongs to the law from 8 in the morning until 6 at night. It remains under precisely the same home conditions that made its attendance at board school, before commitment, hateful or impossible. The parental abhorrence of the system is intensified, and in most cases the efforts of both the child and its parents to avoid the "visitor's" clutches are redoubled. Any adequate description of the disgusting and brutal scenes witnessed in the morning "round up" of these children from among lowly homes would fill every page of this paper. If the child now attends the Truant school regularly, without the use of force, in six months' time it is permitted to return to the elementary school during the remainder of its sentence, the authorities regulating its conduct until it has reached the age of fourteen years. But a single infraction secures its return to the Truant school regime.

If the child becomes incorrigible under this treatment it is brought before a magistrate and sentenced direct to the "ordinary" Industrial school, placed in absolute confinement and is compelled to labor like any other criminal, the boys at woodchopping and making brush and sennit mats, and the girls at knitting coarse stockings and making coarse skirts. This is called "putting the child away," and is regarded as an achievement by the school visitors and authorities. Occasionally a boy or girl is licensed out to service, but these licenses must be renewed, on good behavior, every three months, and they are revokable by the industrial school board committee instead of by a magistrate.

The food of these children is as nearly upon a starvation basis as can be adjusted by expert keepers. It comprises a breakfast of bread and treacle, or bread, milk and porridge; a dinner of pea soup and bread, boiled rice and bread, or "scouse" (a stewed scrap meat and potato hodgepodge), on rare occasions only; and a supper of cocoa, bread and treacle, or milk bread and treacle. They are also furnished with "prayers" three times each day.

A trick of the authorities is to discharge a child, whose term of sentence does not reach to the compulsory age limit, a month previous to expiration of sentence term. This throws it back into the compulsory elementary status under court espionage. At the first dereliction, it is resentenced to another three or five years' term. There are many instances where children have thus been compelled to serve two prisou terms before they were fourteen years of age; and if these wise authorities are sufficiently alert, a third term, as an "incorrigible," can easily be administered.

In the meantime police magistrates are busy fining parents and sentencing them for nonpayment of fees and fines. Whatever the fees may have been in the elementary school, they are far larger after the child has become a prisoner. They are not paid, as a rule, because they cannot be paid. They are allowed to run up to a two or three pounds' sum. Then the officers, who now dog the parents and who are called "collecting constables," secure warrants for the payment of about ten shillings in cash and two shillings per week. When found, the father or mother must instantly pay as per the court order or arrest by a city constable follows. They are lodged in jail until the amount is paid, or is cleared off at the rate of one pound for each week's durance. I believe that the system has ruined more homes and human souls in England than ever has rum. And yet intelligent English social economists profess to wonder why the brawn of the country is gradually disappearing to other lands.

The so called "free" education bill passed by the last British parliament with such high exultation, is not a bill for free education. The English government has merely given a grant of ten shillings a year per capita of attending scholars to all elementary standards. It is simply an "assisted education" measure. And it only assists in the matter of fees to the threepence per week points beyond that; the additional fees, on the former basis, must be forthcoming, under penalty. And it in nowise limits, affects or lessens the child belting among scholars or lynching and persecution of parents, nor in the slightest degree modifies the inhuman system which has made possible or necessary these British "Ragged Schools."

THE VANCOUVER LEPERS.

News-Advertiser.)

The case of the Chinese lepers is now in a worse state than ever, and up till the early hours of this morning one of them was at large and some difficulty may be found in getting him back under cover again. The elder of the two, who is a very intelligent man, able to speak very fair English, who knows that he has some rights and insists on having those, refuses to leave the building that has been his home for the past eight weeks and disconsolately asks what the people are going to do with him. When asked what arrangement would suit him he has the one answer, he wants Mr. Brown to give him a ticket to Hong Kong and to be taken there and nowhere else. Provisions ran short yesterday morning, when by private benefaction they were given about four pounds of rice. The meat is nearly done and they were without salt till one who had the curiosity to see how they were getting along brought it down to them.

The smaller man, who can speak very indifferent English and is apparently an ignorant coolie, left the shack about 9 o'clock yesterday to walk around the wharf and ticket office. He is not so sorely afflicted as the other and his terrible disease could scarcely be noticed by one meeting him unless he were given a second look. Yesterday he went to the ticket office and in his broken language persistently demanded to be given a ticket to Hong Kong. That being out of the question, he then started for the Empress of Japan and had almost got aboard her unnoticed. He was espied just as he was getting off the steps. After walking about the wharf he went back to the shack for a time. He did not remain there long, for if his companion is to be believed he left for Chinatown, so he said in the afternoon.

Not for many a day has any topic been discussed so generally on the streets as what the lepers are doing. Everyone was asking and almost all condemned the way they had been treated and the menace to the city should they continue to be allowed to go about freely. Late in the evening Dr. Carroll made up his mind that some one had to act to save the public health and determined to put the poor unfortunates under guard. He sought out Mr. A. Larwell and engaged him to watch the lepers, himself becoming personally responsible for the cost. He promised to send others to relieve him in the morning. He, with Mr. Larwell, went down to the shack, but to their surprise found only one there, the one who never quitted the shack. This one said his companion had come back in the evening, getting together his blankets and left, he knew not whither. Dr. Carroll went in search of Chief McLaren to have him to instruct his men to hunt up the refugee, but up to a late hour he had not been found.

THE INSIDIOUS FOE.

It Cannot be Quarantined!

MORE TO BE DREADED THAN SMALLPOX OR YELLOW FEVER!

Thousands of our wise and thinking people, as well as many of our best physicians, are seriously of the opinion that our Dominion will be visited again this autumn by that insidious foe, La Grippe. We believe that even now this dreaded disease has obtained an entrance in some districts, and is of a very fatal character. We should remember that this terrible enemy is more to be feared than smallpox or yellow fever, as its victims cannot be quarantined or isolated.

The ablest physicians of the world advise particular preparation in order to combat this deadly trouble. They recommend that the weak, nervous, sleepless, gloomy, morbid and dyspeptic fortify themselves at once for the coming evil. It was proved to the satisfaction of all, in previous epidemics of La Grippe, that Paine's Celery Compound accomplished more for those who were not thoroughly strong than any other known remedy. It was used by thousands with unfailing success, and physicians everywhere prescribed it with pleasure and confidence. Paine's Celery Compound is the only preparation that can brace up the weak, make them robust and healthy, and give a perfect digestion.

It is earnestly hoped that thousands of our Canadian people will use it in time this season, before they are attacked and laid low and helpless by this unrelenting foe, La Grippe.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound by the indisposed, brain-tired, overworked and nervous will certainly prevent the Grippe microbe from fastening itself upon such victims. We trust our people will listen to advice and reason before it is too late; prevention is better than cure.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all disease of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. In its preparation, its medicinal merit, and the wonderful cures it accomplishes Hood's Sarsaparilla is Peculiar to Itself. Thousands testify to its success, and the best advertising Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends. Every testimonial we publish, and every statement we make on behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla may be relied upon as strictly true in every respect.

If you need a good blood purifier or building up medicine, be sure to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Further information and statements of cures sent free to all who address us as below.

COAL

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

THE NANAIMO COAL

(Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

The Great Blythe Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—A morning paper says there is a strong likelihood that the Blythe case, involving millions of property, will be brought to an abrupt conclusion within a few days. On December 19 Miss Florence Blythe, the legally recognized heir to the vast property, will attain her majority. Within a week, perhaps on the following day, a compromise with the other claimants will be made, and so the litigation will be brought to a close. It is said Miss Blythe will go as far as $1,250,000 to end the case. If it is now on appeal to the Supreme Court, but a compromise would quash all proceedings as far as the more important claimants are concerned.

Tin Mines in California.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—Last July Warren Wheatly located some deposits of tin ore on the eastern slope of the Laguna mountains, 65 miles east of this city. He has been engaged in making preparations to develop the mineral, and to-day he returned with a quantity of ore, which local assayers show run over 50 per cent. in tin. Wheatly states that the deposit may be traced by croppings for over two miles and that nine locations have already been made. San Francisco capitalists have promised a very large amount of money to develop the mine.

Burned to Death.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Patrick Maguire, aged 55 years, of 29 East 35th street, died in the Presbyterian hospital this morning at 1 o'clock. During an altercation at his residence, a drunken woman named Graffney, to whom Maguire had refused a night's lodging, threw a lighted lamp at him. The lamp broke and burning oil spread over his body, burning him in a terrible manner. He was removed to the hospital, where he died four hours later. The woman Gaffney was arrested this afternoon.

Killed by a Train.

HAMILTON, O., Nov. 6.—Wm Morrell, 25 years old, of Cincinnati, and P. Hart, aged 45, of Anderson, Ind., were instantly killed at Shenks station on the C. H and Dayton Railway this morning. They were walking along the track and stepped aside to let a south bound train pass and were struck by a train going north on a parallel track. Both men were horribly mangled. Their remains were brought to this city. Hart was an electrician, as he had on his person letters and addresses of electrical companies.

A Preacher's Offence.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—In the United States Circuit Court, Rev. A. T. Sutherland, of Hamilton, Luzerne county, convicted last July at Erie of sending obscene publications through the mails, was called up for sentence. The court stated that inasmuch as the defendant had been prosecuted in the state courts for libel, which suits had cost him over $2000, besides trouble, the court thought a fine would be sufficient punishment. It therefore sentenced the prisoner to pay a fine of $600.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Orange Banquet—Charles Stewart's Funeral—Alleged Highwaymen.

NANAIMO, Nov. 7.—The Loyal Orange Lodge of Nanaimo met in the Institute Hall on Wednesday, where they listened to a number of addresses from the clergy and a few of the leading citizens. The Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band was present, and between the speeches it played a few of the best patriotic pieces. At the close of the entertainment the whole party repaired to the Windsor House, where a grand banquet had been especially prepared for the guests. After the inner man had been appeased the remainder of the evening was spent in honoring the various toasts proposed.

LAID TO REST.

The funeral of Charles Stewart, the youth who met with such an untimely death on Wednesday by being cut up on the railroad, took place yesterday. The sad cortege, after leaving the home of the deceased, proceeded to St. Alban's church, where the Rev. G. H. Torey, rector, read the burial service of the Church of England. The cortege then reformed and with the twelve pallbearers proceeded to the cemetery, where the body was laid to rest. The storekeepers throughout the main street closed their premises while the cortege passed, and a long line of carriages, as well as pedestrians, followed the remains.

A GOOD OBJECT.

The grand concert to be given in this city on Nov. 12th has been undertaken by the members of the I. O. G. T. to assist an unfortunate brother who has entirely lost his eyesight. Most every individual in the city is acquainted with the afflicted brother, and is to be hoped that they will remember to purchase a ticket on this occasion. A very good programme has been arranged, and an endeavor will be made to make the concert and entertainment an interesting one. Tickets may be obtained at all the leading stores in the city.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A man named G. R. Edwards was arrested by Constable O'Connell on a charge of assaulting two Russian Finns and also attempting to rob them on a lonely road on Newcastle townsite on Thursday night. The man arrested was brought before Mr. Planta, S. M., and Mayor Hilbert last evening for a preliminary hearing and, after going into the case, it was adjourned until Tuesday next. There have been several such attempts of late, and the magistrates intend to deal with the culprits as severely as the law will permit them. Edwards will probably be committed to the assizes.

LITTLE EVENTS.

The Nanaimo militia has changed their place of drill to St. Paul's Institute, and Mr. S. E. Potts, of Vancouver, has been appointed drill instructor.

The Royal Albert Football Club are endeavoring to arrange a series of matches to play for the handsome silver challenge cup now held by them.

Beet Sugar Machinery Free.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Acting Secretary Spaulding has instructed collectors of customs to admit free of duty till July 1st, 1892, machinery intended for use in producing sugar from beets, and to accept affidavit of ownership on prima facie evidence of the intended use of the machinery, but to require a bond equal to the duty that proof be produced within one year after importation that the machinery has been used in a beet factory in the production of sugar.
